

So You're on Winter Break.....

What should I be doing?

- Relaxing
- Recharging
- Eating cookies
- Celebrating

What if I'm a senior?

- Update your resume
- Apply for jobs/graduate school/internships
- Appreciate what may be your last college winter break

What if I'm a junior?

- Look for a summer internship
- Update your resume
- Tailor your cover letter to internships you're interested in applying for
- Look into graduate school (and if you're interested, get a GRE prep book)

What if I'm a sophomore?

- Look into what field you want to work in (government, nonprofit, etc.)
- Consider how the courses you've chosen and will choose are going to benefit you in that field.
- Make an appointment with your advisor or GA for when you get back to discuss what your career and education goals are
- Read a book about education

What if I'm a first year student?

- Reflect on your strengths and weaknesses during your first semester
- Make a new semester resolution
- Read a book about education
